

NIGERIA BUILDING AND CONSTRUCTION SECTOR WAITS FOR YOUR INVESTMENT

Nigeria BuildExpo, International Construction, and Building Materials Exhibition will be held 02 - 04 November 2017 in Lagos, Nigeria.

Growing sector potential looks for international investors in this exhibition.

INVESTMENTS AND NEW PROTOCOLS OF NIGERIA GOVERNMENT SUPPORT THE SECTOR

Nigeria is in the countries that have big development rate. Nigeria government supports investments to make this growth permanently. Building and construction sector one of the most developing sectors in the country.

According to National Bureau of Statistics (NBS), annual growth in the construction sector is 13 %. The main reason for this growth relays on 2020 and 2043 master plans of the state. According to these plans, infrastructure investments, renewable energy, housing projects, production facilities, health and education complexes will be finalized until 2043 and these entire projects positively affect national construction sector. Nigeria already makes import around 85 % in construction and building sector and projects in master plans make demand in the sector continuous. Import for the machine, material etc. sector products will continue and grow during 25 years.

Nigeria government runs special protocol for foreign investments. Thanks to this application, foreign investors come in the state more easily and continue their business more effective way.

EKO ATLANTIC CITY WILL BE RIVAL TO DUBAI

Eko Atlantic City is placed near the top in the Nigeria building and housing sector investment. Eko Atlantic City is a metropolis aims to offer houses for 250.000 people, workplace for 150.000 people. It will be built on 9 million sqm and and protected by 10 km seawall. Eko Atlantic is supported by local banks such as First Bank, FCMB, Access Bank PLC, GT Bank and international banks such as Paribas Fortis ve KBC. This megacity is in the best examples of economic development in the Africa continent. The project will change not only Nigeria but also countries in sub-Saharan Africa. Eko Atlantic is seen as a rival to Dubai with this feature of the project.

CHANCE TO TAKE PART IN NIGERIA MARKET IS IN BUILDEXPO

Potentials of Nigeria are growing year by year and BuildExpo gives the opportunity to take part in this growing market. Last year, BuildExpo hosted 72 attendees from 12 different countries and was visited by 3200 local and international visitors. State officers, local governments, sector representatives and pioneer business people visited companies in their booths and sectorial meetings were arranged during the exhibition. Both new ways for international collaboration and partnership agreements are the main object of the exhibition.
